

TRADE SHOW COMMUNICATOR

Drawing a crowd and stopping them in their tracks is a guarantee when Dale Obrochta hits the trade show floor. Dale orchestrates a performance that is effortless and weaves your key bullet points with unforgettable art. Your ears detect a balanced sales pitch between a professional product representative and a good-humored entertainer.

After the performance, your sales team will interact with informed, excited and inquisitive prospects eager to talk to your sales team about your product. Your booth will have the best-communicated message that the audience will not forget with fun audience participation, an outburst of laughter and visual art the draws attention to your company.

Dale will be your best lead generator on your sales team. Leads will exceed your expectations. The crowds will be huge. Your message will be powerful. Make it all about you.

When it matters, call Dale.
